GKFGCMASTER 1-52

001 AUTO DEALER. Jenkinson Motor Company was located in what was originally Gragg's Livery Stable, a large barn-like structure near the NE corner of what is now North Holladay and Oceanway. Per Hal Berry to JMF 06/01/91. See photo of this building sent to JMF by Fred Rodgers; my scanner images of photo are with RODGERS file. Signal Reflections printed the photo 04/30/92, but omitted lengthy cut line JMF sent with photo (Fred Bassett was editing the column). 39-7

001 BAKERY - west side bakery (name indefinite), owner Mrs. C.E. Barrett 3-2

001 BAKERY. Boyle, E.J., bakery and confectionery to be located in same building as Seaside Signal; bldg being constructed by J. E. Alcaraz, mgr City Box & Lumber Co. Signal 03/25/1905 p1. 10-2

001 BANK - First State Bank of Seaside: L. L. Paget, cashier. 3-2

001 BARBERSHOP - O.K. Barbershop of Seaside hires C. Jones of Astoria 3-2

001 BED & BREAKFAST. The Boarding House, 208 N. Holladay Dr., owners (1990) are Richard and Barbara Edwards. Location was probable residence site of Babe Anderson. Per Inez Hanson 04/18/1990. 17-3

001 BLACKSMITH. A blacksmith's shop, founded in 1910 or 1911, was located on south side of Oceanway, about 100 feet east of North Main Street (aka Seventh; aka N. Holladay Drive). It was owned by several men in the following order: Merriman (founder, circa 1910-1911), Graves, Moody, Rudy Leutwyler (circa 1931-1942), Bernard "Barney" McCollum (1942-?). The original shop building was demolished; a new building (which still stands) was built slightly to the east of the original shop. The new building is now part of Debra's Surplus and was until recently a repair shop of foreign autos. 39-7

should read ~~[illegible]~~ ~~[illegible]~~ James Perry Merrifield

001 BLACKSMITH. Merrifield, J.P., firm, constructs wagon for John Sundquist. Signal 10/03/1908. 10-4.

001 BRADBURY DAIRY, Clement Adams Bradbury [II], proprietor. Located somewhere in southeast Seaside, circa late 1800 to early 1900s. May have been later operated by Bradbury's son, Richard E. Bradbury [I]. See BRADBURY. 50A

001 BUILDING SUPPLIES. A. Gilbert & Son selling cement for $2.60, lime $2.40, shingles $2.25 per thousand and brick $15 per thousand. Inquiries were invited at the office [probably located NW corner Bridge & Main St.]. (Advertisement.) Signal 08/27/1910 p8. 50-5

001 BUS LINE. Garretson, F.W., is Seaside agent for Oregon Motor Stages which provides stage service between Portland and Seaside. Reduction in stage service is likely, due to "re-activation of Camp Adair." Signal, 07/19/1945 p1. 27-4

001 CAFE. Operated by a Mr. Ross, located between Piggly Wiggle (now Sprouse) site and what is now Moose Club. Ross was married to daughter of J. D. McIntire, mgr (owner) of the Beacon Hotel (now Moose Club site). Per Doug Hurd 10/08/1990. See MAP file.

001 CAFE. Shangri-La Cafe, Seaside (Advertisement). Signal 09/05/1957 p6. 18-1

001 DANCE HALL. Benefit dance on Wednesday night, 06/23/1926, sponsored by Red Cross and Seaside Chamber of Commerce to purchase life saving equipment. Harold Terwilliger, Cliff Johnson and M.F. Hardesty (manager of the pavilion) are on committee in charge. Signal 06/17/1926 p1. 27-7

001 DANCE HALL. Cupola of Octagon Pavilion visible in circa 1916-18 photo of Broadway hanging in Seaside Museum. JMF letter to Hal Berry, 12/14/1991. 39-13B.

001 DANCE HALL Trails' End Pavilion Manager, M. F. Hardesty, donates hall for benefit dance on Monday, 06/21/1926, sponsored by the Signal for the widow Mrs. Selma Niemi, whose home burned down with no insurance. Early Gray and orchestra to provide music. Signal 06/17/1926 p1. 27-7

001 DIARY. Pioneer Dairy. Bradbury, R.E., "of the Pioneer Dairy." Signal 03/17/1906 p1. Item on same page says he erecting a modern "creamery" with capacity for 75 cows. 50-4

001 DRUGSTORE. Babbidge, J.G., and partner, William Hoyle Gardner, purchase Roth Drug Co. from John Roth circa 1922-23. Gardner continued as partner circa 1923-28 (per his obit, Seaside Signal, 03/10/1932). 23-2

001 DRUGSTORE. Conn & Roth, moved from their west-side location to SW corner Bridge & Main. Signal 02/25/1915; repeated in Years Ago item, Signal, 08/10/1989. 23-2

001 DRUGSTORE. Conn Drug Co. first (1908?) located where Moose Club is now. See JMF photo/postcard collection.

001 DRUGSTORE. Conn Drug Company, first occupied west half of the Beacon Hotel (now Moose Club site). Conn then went in with Roth at SW corner Broadway & Holladay. Per Doug Hurd 10/08/1990. See MAP file. Later, Per Hal Berry, Conn quit the drug business and opened a variety store dealing heavily in school supplies near southwest end of Broadway Bridge. See what I wrote on this subject in Signal Reflections, ca. 1989-91.

001 DRUGSTORE. History Roth Drug Company and Graham Drug Store. Signal 12/02/1943 p1; copy filed w/Babbidge FGC. 23-3.

001 DRUGSTORE. Roth Drug Co., purchased from Mrs. E. S. Babbidge by Arthur Graham, who took possession 12/01/1943. Signal, 12/02/1943 p1. 23-2

001 FIREWOOD. Newton, Fred J., was advertising to sell "boxwood," which he was buying on contract from "the box factory" [Seaside Lumber & Manufacturing Company]. Prospective customers were invited to place their orders at Newton's office on "Bridge St., next to Selnes & Wheatley's store." The "boxwood" was probably waste scraps of spruce produced during the milling process. Signal 08/27/1910 p8. See xerox. 50-5

001 GARAGE - Williams Bros. Garage. 3-2

001 GAS STATION. Associated Oil Station, owned by Ed Ford and operated by Bill Spear, was built on former site where Jenkinson Motor Company (originally Gragg's Livery Stable) had been demolished. Hal Berry writes, "The big barn type Gragg Livery Stable reached from alley to Ocean Way East, fronting on Holladay. It later became Jenkinson's Ford agency, then torn down and Association Oil Station — most modern in Seaside — was erected on same location. Ed Ford had it sewed up, so Bill Spear only could operate it, which he did for a number of years." Letter to JMF from Hal Berry, 12/16/1991. There is an element of confusion here, perhaps only in JMF's mind, as he had the impression that the Associated station was on the southeast, rather than the northeast, corner of Oceanway & Holladay. 39-14.

001 GAS STATION. Blake, Frank (1880-1944). FGC: b. 1880, Oskosh, Wis.; d. 01/02/1944, Portland (hospital); buried Evergreen Cem., Seaside. Came Seaside 1923 from N. Dak; was for some time associated with his brother, John Blake, in a service station. He afterwards operated a service station in Cannon Beach, then served about 10 years on Seaside Police force. Proprietor of Frank's Place (tavern?) for several years. Moved to Portland about two years prior to his death, where had been employed.Left widow in Portland and several brothers and sisters in midwest. Source: Obit, Signal 01/06/1944 p1. 42 and 42A.

001 GAS STATION. Ed's Mobile Service Station operator from circa 1962-1970 was Bowser, Edgar C. (1910-1989), who died May 13, 1989, in Seaside. He came to Seaside 1926. Was a logger most of his life, retired 1962. After retired, operated Ed's Mobil Service Station, Seaside, until retiring again in 1970. Among those surviving him were his wife Wilma Annie (Carlson) Bowser and son Bud Bowser, both of Seaside. Obit. DA 05/15/1989. 46-1

001 GAS STATION. Parker, Frank "Dad," owned service station at southeast corner of what is now N. Holladay and Oceanway. Per Hal and his brother Gabe Berry to JMF 06/01/91. 39-7

001 GRILL. Seaside Grill, to be site of Chamber of Commerce forum 02/19/1952. Signal 02/14/1952 p1.

001 GROCERY. History of Safeway (contained in separate folder), was the former "20th Century" grocery (1924) and MacMarr Stores (1928) located at 6 North Seventh St. (now N. Holladay Dr.) in the Gilbert Block. Safeway bought MacMarr Stores in 1932. [Research by JMF indicates it kept the old name, MacMarr Stores, until February 1934 when it finally became Safeway.] Per Hal Berry on 03/16/1991; Memo by JMF. Also see separate Safeway file by JMF. 39-5B

001 GROCERY. MacMarr Stores, owned by a Mr. MacIntire of Portland, bought out "20th Century" grocery, 6 N. Seventh St. (now N. Holladay Dr.) in 1928. MacMarr Stores grocery was purchased by Safeway in 1932. Per Hal Berry on 03/16/1991. Memo by JMF. See JMF's separate folder on Safeway history. 39-5B.

001 HOTEL. Beacon Hotel was conducted by Mr. & Mrs. A. E. Allen until about 1915, when they moved to farm near Salem. By end of 1921 the Allens were considering moving back to Seaside. Signal 12/29/1921. 11-1

001 HOTEL. Occident Hotel, Astoria, history of. Founded 1858 by A. Aragonis; sold in 1864 to A. J. Megler; who continued as owner as of 1910 DA article, with C.S. Wright proprietor. ADB 11/14/1910 p5. 19B-1

001 LAUNDRY. Avenue A Home Laundry, Seaside, Thomas Peter Andrich (1892-1957), proprietor 1956-1957. Formerly owner for 25 years of Service Cleaners of Astoria; was later a partner of Wilbur Steele in Astoria Cleaners. Obit. Signal 09/05/1957 p6. 18-1.

001 LAUNDRY. Troy Laundry (of Astoria), former truck driver Thomas Peter Andrich (1892-1957), obit. Signal 09/05/1957 p6. 18-1

001 Lawler & Moore. (firm owned by Patrick Lawler and Fred H. Moore), in 1901 purchase property SW corner Bridge & Main, then occupied by store which J.H. Johansen had purchased from James P. Austin. First Lawler-Moore Building erected on site 1905. The F. Dresser Mercantile Co. occupied greater portion. Structure completely leveled in great fire of May 13/14, 1912. New Lawler-Moore Bldg built during winter 1912; B.J. Callahan (Callahan's Saloon) was first tenant in May 1913. See "The Callahans of Seaside," 25-part Reflections series by Jack M. Fosmark, Seaside Signal of June 1 thru Nov. 30, 1989. 21-1

001 LIVERY STABLE. Gragg's Livery Stable, survived the 1912 fire and became home to the Jenkinson Motor Co. It was located near the NE corner of what is now North Holladay and Oceanway. Per Hal Berry to JMF 06/01/91. 39-7

001 LUMBER COMPANY. City Box & Lumber Co., ad in Signal 03/25/1905 p1. See copy in JMF's Callahan Clippings folder. 10-2

001 MEAT MARKET - Rode Bros. Meat Market, hires W.F. Stehman, former resident. 3-2

001 MEAT MARKET. Peterson Meat Market. Judge Henry Brallier shared or was next-door west of small building (next-door east of 1914 city hall) occupied by the Seaside Signal office-print shop. Henry "Shorty" Nelson's Shoe Hospital was also on or near this site. The building, one of the temporary wood-framed structures hastily erected after the great fire of the night of May 13/14,1912, had been moved there from its original site near the SW corner of Bridge & Main, where it was known as Peterson's Meat Market. Reason for its being moved was to make way for the new Lawler-Moore Building, construction of which began in the winter of 1912. The walls were still spattered with animal blood and the rafters were hung with meat hooks when the Signal moved in. See what JMF wrote about this in Signal Reflections. Per Doug Hurd 10/08/1990. See MAP file.

001 MEAT MARKET/GROCERY. D.O. Bullard of Portland, took over the management of Seaside Piggly Wiggly meat market, replacing Ray Cameron, who had entered the U.S. Navy. Signal 03/02/1944 p1. 40-1

001 SHOE REPAIR SHOP. Nelson's Shoe Hospital, Henry "Shorty" Nelson, proprietor, was located one or two doors east of the city hall building erected in 1914. Judge Henry Brallier shared or was next-door west of a small building (next-door east of city hall) occupied (post-fire) by the Seaside Signal office-print shop. Henry "Shorty" Nelson's Shoe Hospital was also on or near this site. The building, one of the temporary wood-framed structures hastily erected after the great fire of the night of May 13/14,1912, had been moved there from its original site near the SW corner of Bridge & Main, where it was known as Peterson's Meat Market. Reason for its being moved was to make way for the new Lawler-Moore Building, construction of which began in the winter of 1912. The walls were still spattered with animal blood and the rafters were hung with meat hooks when the Signal moved in. See what JMF wrote about this in Signal Reflections. Per Doug Hurd 10/08/1990. See MAP file.

001 STRUCTURES, MISC. Bracher, Douglas T. "Doug," 4473 Hwy 101N, Seaside, OR 97138, Tel. 738-6947. As Superintendent of Construction, Bracher was employed by Albert Mittet of the Albert Mittet General Contracting Company. Working side-by-side with Mittet, Bracher was involved in the construction of the following, in Seaside: Elks Club Lodge (first ca. 1954); Telephone company office (south end), Seaside Spa, Seaside High School (1957) and the gym later, city sewage plant. In Astoria: Bank of Astoria, Astor Library, Clatsop County Community College, Columbia Maritime Museum, Iiahee Apartments (remodeling). In Warrenton: Warrenton School, PNB Telephone building, 1,600,000-gallon city water reservoir (on Clatsop Plains near that new house constructed recently east of Clatsop Plains Pioneer Presbyterian Church), settling tank near Crown Camp for Warrenton City Water Dept. Other projects Bracher worked on, some as an employee of Schrader Construction Company, were: Jewell School (ca. 1970, '72 and '74), Hammond Catholic Church, three bridges for CZ, Microwave station on Nicolai Ridge (for PNB), Cable TV installations (repeater, etc.) on Mt. Wickiup and Coxcomb Hill, Big Creek Fish Hatchery. Since retiring, Bracher has become a regular at Holladay Drug coffee counter, where JMF has interviewed him. Memo by JMF, 12/01/90. 48-1

001 TAVERN. Frank's Place. Blake, Frank (1880-1944). FGC: b. 1880, Oskosh, Wis.; d. 01/02/1944, Portland (hospital); buried Evergreen Cem., Seaside. Came Seaside 1923 from N. Dak; was for some time associated with his brother, John Blake, in a service station. He afterwards operated a service station in Cannon Beach, then served about 10 years on Seaside Police force. Proprietor of Frank's Place (tavern?) for several years. Moved to Portland about two years prior to his death, where had been employed.Left widow in Portland and several brothers and sisters in midwest. Source: Obit, Signal 01/06/1944 p1. 42 and 42A

001. CREAMERY. Clatsop County Cheese Association, headquartered in Seaside, circa 1912-?. Rowland Morris "Gabe" Berry, on 06/01/1991 in Seaside, drew map for JMF (see MAP file) showing location of the large building housing a creamery. According to research by Inez (Stafford) Hanson (copies in JMF's files on STAFFORD), the "creamery" described by Berry was actually the Clatsop County Cheese Association, was incorporated on10/09/1912 by H. McCormick, John Sundquist, E.T. Stafford and Charles Thompson. It had started producing cheese and pasteurizing milk by April 1913 (Signal) and by 1914 was producing butter; all for local and Portland markets. JMF wrote about this business in Signal Reflections column of 12/13/1990, which also contains a circa 1895 photo of the building later occupied by CCCA. JMF wrote history of E.T. Stafford's involvement in CCCA; see Signal Reflections 02/21/1991. 39-9

001. GROCERY. "20th Century" grocers opened up in 1924, with Dave Wagner as manager. A Mr. (FNU) Anderson was also an employee. In 1928, the store was purchased by a Mr. MacIntyre of Portland and the name was changed to MacMarr Stores. Safeway bought out MacMarr Stores in 1932, and although it began operating it immediately, it may not have changed the name to Safeway until later. See my separate Safeway folder.

Bradbury (family) - copy of JMF's notes made 08/27/1987 in the library of Clatsop Plains Pioneer (Presbyterian) Church, contain genealogy of four Bradbury family members buried in the pioneer cemetery behind the church. 50-3

Bradbury (family) buried in Clatsop Plains Pioneer Cemetery (list compiled by Jim Dennon of Clatsop County Historical Society): 039-04 18310210 18560125 Bradbury, Ann H., wife of C.A., born Derbyshire, England; 039-03 18510120 18530923 Bradbury, Charles F., son of C.A. & Ann H.; 039-02 18531211 18640520 Bradbury, Clarissa, dau. of C.A. & Ann H.; 039-01 18190318 19021220, Bradbury, Clement Adams, pioneer of York Co., Maine, 1846; 039-05 1853 19380210 Bradbury, Clement; 039-06 1852 1901 Bradbury, Flora I.; 039-07 1888 1910 Bradbury, Helen. 50-4

Bradbury (memo by JMF 09/20/91): Metsker map, 1930, shows following Bradbury family property: (1) Bradbury's Second Addition to Ocean Grove [consisting of many, many blocks in Sec 21, 22, T7N R10W; east of RR tracks and to the north of the boundary of the smaller portion of the Cartwright Park Township on the east side of the river], and (2) "Ellen Bradbury," about four-five blocks in length (north-south), and about two blocks wide (east-west), on the west bank of the Wahanna River in Bradbury's Second Addition to Ocean Grove. Note: Bradbury's Second Addition to Ocean Grove extended from the RR tracks to the east as far as today's Wahanna Road, and abutted the west boundary of Seaside Heights subdivision. In its north-south direction, it extended from the north boundary line of Cartwright Park (that smaller portion thereof on the east side of the Necanicum River) to the south boundary line of Hill's Second Addition to Ocean Grove. About one-quarter of its area was on the east side of the Wahanna River and not developed. The major portion, three-quarters of it, was west of the Wahanna River (modern-day Neawanna Creek), and included all of what became known (after circa 1905) as Seaside Finntown, which was from present-day Avenue F to Avenue K, and all east of the tracks, between the tracks and the Wahanna River. The Bradbury Second Addition earlier contained the Bradbury home and probably the Bradbury Dairy and perhaps even the Bradbury Mill, the latter two enterprises probably being handed down and family-operated. 50-3

Bradbury Mill, was a sawmill owned by Clement Adams Bradbury [II], and in operation prior to 1893 a few miles southeast of the old east-side core of Seaside; Herbert F. L. Logan purchased Bradbury's sawmill equipment circa 1893-94, and used it to start Logan's Mill at what is today Avenue G and South Holladay Drive. See LOGAN, HENNINGER, SEASIDE FINNTOWN/MILL. 50A

Bradbury, Ann (Hobson), known as "Annie", b. 02/10/1831, Derbyshire, England; d. 01/25/1856; m. Clement Adams Bradbury [I] (prob his second marriage), 1850, prob Clatsop Plains. Annie was dau William Hobson(1797-1879). She prob mother of Charles F., Clarissa, Clement [II], and Bethemia A. Bradbury (Mrs. John Quigley). FGC 50-1, 50-2.

Bradbury, Anna and daughter Nellie Bradbury, "having left my bed and board, I hereby warn all persons against trusting them on my account as I will not pay any debts contracted by them. August 27, 1910. /s/Edwin Bradbury, Clatsop, Ore." Signal

Bradbury, Bethemia A., m. John Quigley. Dau of Clement Adams Bradbury [I] and Ann (Hobson) Bradbury. 50-1

Bradbury, Charles F., b. 01/20/1851, Clatsop Beach, d. 09/23/1853, Clatsop Beach; buried Clatsop Plains Pioneer Cemetery, Blk 039 Lot 03. Son of Clement Adams Bradbury [I] (1819-1902) and Ann (Hobson) Bradbury (1831-1856). 50-1

Bradbury, Clarissa A., dau of Clement Adams Bradbury [II] (1855-1938), b. 12/11/1853, d. 05/20/1864. Bur CPPC 039-02. m. Perry Gaines of Klamath Co., Ore. This Clarissa is not to be confused with her aunt Clarissa, daughter of Clement [I]. There are the following confusion factors with this entry: Gaston, writing in 1911, when listing the seven children of R.E. Bradbury, says "Clarissa A., the wife of Perry Gains." The dates of Clarissa's birth and death as given in the cemetery records indicates she died in her tenth year of life. How could she have been married? Gaston said further, with reference to the two children named Helen: "Helen, who died in Seattle Washington, in 1909, when twenty years of age; Helen, who lives with her sister Mrs. Gaines," i.e., Clarissa, in which year this Clarissa would have been already dead for 48 years! 50A

Bradbury, Clarissa, b. 12/11/1853, Clatsop Beach, d. 05/20/1864, Clatsop Beach; buried Clatsop Plains Pioneer Cemetery, Blk 039 Lot 02. dau of Clement Adams Bradbury [I] and Ann (Hobson) Bradbury. 50-1

Bradbury, Clement Adams [I] (1819-1902, b. 03/18/1819, York County, Maine; d. 12/20/1902, prob in Seaside home of son Clement; bur. Clatsop Plains Pioneer Cem., Blk 039 Lot 01; m. (prob his second marriage) Ann "Annie" Hobson (1831-1856). Four known children: Charles F., Clarissa, Clement [II], Bethemia A. (Mrs. John Quigley). At age 25 (1844), Clement [I] went to sea, first on a whaler, then fishing, spent time Australia; later bound for Bearing Sea was shipwrecked, taken to Sandwich Islands. Arrived Oregon City December 1846. In 1848 went to California with Marcellus, John and Richard Hobson, (FNU) Robb and (FNU) Jeffers. Was successful in gold rush, returned Oregon (unknown if married in Calif or Ore), settled in 1851 on old Oak Point, on Oregon side of Columbia River (place became known as Bradbury or Bradbury's Landing), having bought the land of Charles Adams. From this day he was called "the first permanent settler of the lower Columbia River, below Sauvie's Island and above Astoria. In 1884 he sold out; spent year visiting East USA. In 1885 (at age 66), moved in with son Clement Bradbury [II] in Seaside. Bradbury, Clement Adams [I] — Copy of abstract given to JMF by Clara (Ostman) Kemhus (Mrs. Clinton "Kinky" Kemhus) on 03/15/1990, shows "Clement Bradbury and Ellen E. Bradbury, his wife," purchased for $3,000, 160 acres, NW 1/4 of Sec 27, T6N R10W, from "C.R. Thomson and Mary P. Thomson, his wife" on 01/11/1889. The Bradburys sold same land to "Milton Young" on 02/17/1905 for $4,000. See copy filed with ABSTRACTS & DEEDS. It is worthy of note that Milton Young was the father of Zara L. Young who in 1906 married Richard E. Bradbury [I], son of Clement Adams Bradbury [II]. The "Thomson" couple named are probably Charles R. Thompson and his wife Mary P. Thompson (see THOMPSON), who owned part of the former Jefferson Louk donation land claim, and are the namesakes of Thompson's Falls northeast of Seaside. Another deed dated 01/16/1889, contained in the abstract, says "Clement Bradbury and F.I. Bradbury, his wife." 50-2.

Bradbury, Clement Adams [II], 1870 Census, Clatsop County, Lexington Precinct: "Bradbury, Clement, 15, male, white, born in Oregon." 50-4

Bradbury, Clement Adams [II], appears on 1894 Military List, Seaside: #81, Bradbury, C., age 39. 50-4.

Bradbury, Clement Adams [II], b. 1855

Bradbury, Clement Adams [II], b. ca. 1855, Columbia County (prob in parents home at Bradbury Landing), Ore., d. 02/10/1938, (prob Seaside); buried Clatsop Plains Pioneer Cemetery, Blk 039 Lot 05; m. Flora Irene Newcomb (1852-1900). Children: Richard E., Sarah Etta, Clement J., Clarissa A., Helen [I], Helen [II], Irene. The 1870 Census lists Clement Bradbury at age 15 in the Richard Hobson household; where he was perhaps visiting at the time the census-taker came by; his grandmother Annie, wife of Clement Bradbury [I], was a Hobson (see HOBSON). Clement II's residence in Seaside was near what is in 1992 the Y-intersection of South Holladay and Roosevelt Drive (Hwy 101 S), probably in the middle of Hwy 101, between Del's Chevron gas station and the A&W Restaurant. Bradbury owned a large part of what came to be the southeast quarter of Seaside. He was operating a sawmill before 1893-94, when he sold his mill equipment to H.F.L Logan (see LOGAN). He also ran a dairy and probably a dairy outlet store in the Seaside area, possibly from very near his home; later with the assistance of his son, Richard. He was listed in 1870 Census, Lexington Precinct, Astoria P.O.: "Bradbury, Clement, 15, Male, White, born Oregon" (see copy filed CLOUTRIE Part II, UNCAS File). Also listed in 1900 Register of Electors, Seaside, #9, 2/10/1900, Bradbury, Clement, Farmer, age 45, American-born, residence in Sec. 21, T6N R10W (see copy Signal Reflections, 09/13/1990). Was elected to first council of City of Seaside (east side of river), which council organized 03/01/1899 (also date city incorporated). But since he lived too far south of then city limits, other members simply picked G. H. Lindsey in Bradbury's place (Source: Hanson). Bradbury moved from Bradbury Landing to Seaside in 1884 (when his son Richard was four years old, per Gaston). See photo of "C.A. Bradbury," (probably C.A. Bradbury [I], copy filed as 50-2), in "History of Pacific Northwest — Oregon and Washington," Vol. I of II, p440; also see bio sketch of Clement Adams Bradbury [I] in Vol II, p221. 50-1, 50-1A, 50-2, 50-2A

Bradbury, Richard E. [I], b. 07/10/1880, Portland, Ore., m. Zara L. Young, 1906. Children: Aubra, Richard E. [II], Maxine, Lyda Elain. Richard [I] came to Seaside with his parents in 1884 at age four. He received his elementary education in Seaside, and afterward worked in his father's dairy. In 1906, at age 26, he moved to Klamath County. In 1907 he moved to Portland and there worked as a millwright (at which he had earlier experience in his father's mill). In May 1911 he returned to Klamath County and became foreman in the building of the U.S. government dam and also of the Lost River diversion dam. In the spring of 1912 he took charge of his

216-acre ranch adjoining the government project. He also looked after this father's 400-acre property in the area. Source: R.E. Bradbury bio-sketch in "The Centennial History of Oregon, 1811-1911," by Joseph Gaston, Vol. IV, p411 (Copy filed with BRADBURY charts). 50A, 50B, 50-1, 50-1A

Brallier, Judge Henry, shared or was next-door west of small building (next-door east of city hall) occupied by the Seaside Signal office-print shop. Henry "Shorty" Nelson's Shoe Hospital was also on or near this site. The building, one of the temporary wood-framed structures hastily erected after the great fire of the night of May 13/14,1912, had been moved there from its original site near the SW corner of Bridge & Main, where it was known as Peterson's Meat Market. Reason for its being moved was to make way for the new Lawler-Moore Building, construction of which began in the winter of 1912. The walls were still spattered with animal blood and the rafters were hung with meat hooks when the Signal moved in. See what JMF wrote about this in Signal Reflections. Per Doug Hurd 10/08/1990.
